

GOD'S MASTERWORK, VOLUME FOUR
AN INVITATION TO RETURN—A SURVEY OF HOSEA—MALACHI
ZECHARIAH: MAN OF VISION AND FAITH
A SURVEY OF ZECHARIAH

The Heart of the Matter

As one of the largest books of the Minor Prophets, Zechariah sets forth an encouraging word of assurance to a demoralized people. The prophet Haggai had led the way in rebuilding the temple . . . but the people lost focus during the process. Crop failures caused financial distress at home, and the work grew tedious at the construction site. The prophet Zechariah rolled up his sleeves and plunged with reckless abandon into the work of helping his great friend, Haggai. But Zechariah's style was very different. Rather than rebuking the workmen, he relied on words of inspiration and positive encouragement to motivate the people. The book of Zechariah is a refreshing change from the reproof style of other prophets. Both styles are needed, however, to get a job done.

Discovering the Way

1. Contrastive Styles of Motivation

Leaders come in two basic molds—especially when it comes to motivation: “extrinsic” types, who are like drill sergeants, and “intrinsic” types, who are like shepherds, gently and quietly inspiring.

2. Analysis of Zechariah

Zechariah was a friend of Haggai and ministered during the difficult days of rebuilding the temple. Zechariah's book, unlike Haggai's, is filled with gentle inspiration and prophecies of the coming Lamb of God.

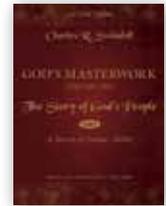

Starting Your Journey

Three enduring lessons from Zechariah's life are revealed in his book. First, motivation can result from being inspired just as much from being rebuked . . . sometimes more. So, use inspiration! Second, to accomplish something God's way for God's glory, God's Spirit must be in control. Let Him be! Third, God's ultimate plan cannot be frustrated. Lean hard on it!
